THE MOUNTING WORLD CRISIS

Every major event now occurring was forecast by the Intelligence Digest Information Service. The official agencies of every important N.A.T.O. Government have been using this Service, and all now realise that it has proved the most accurate political Intelligence network in operation.

It has contradicted other information services and, of course, the Press over and over again. But the Intelligence Digest Service has been justified by event after event, and is now in consequence at the summit of its authority and world-wide reputation. All responsible people know that it has achieved first place.

This Service now reports that international affairs are moving towards a climax. This is going to affect you and your business or profession. It is therefore imperative that you should know the facts.

This Service collects its information at the top levels all over the world, and can give you an accurate account of the real trends and the vast events towards which they are leading.

Whatever the newspapers may care to tell you, the world situation is moving towards history's greatest climax. This climax is no great distance away.

A very influential and authoritative group of experts is responsible for circulating the Intelligence Digest Service. Canadian and U.S. industrialists, businessmen, leading executives, statesmen, and a large number of official agencies now consider this Service as to-day's top priority MUST.

We particularly want to send it to you by air mail. You will find you have a fully accurate guide which will be worth everything to you. Those who already have it will certainly say so.

Its current reports are of greater interest and importance than any yet published, because we have reached the beginning of the great climax.

These reports are frank, blunt, and factual. They tell you the whole truth in plain language.

We feel that to live at this moment of history and not to have the top inside facts is not only a pity - it is very dangerous.

You can have all or any one or two parts.

(1) The monthly Intelligence Summary at 12 dollars per annum, including air mail costs.

(11) The Special Weekly Report which adds to the latest international news, information on investment trends affected thereby. This has proved worth a lot of money to many. The cost is 35 dollars for 48 weekly reports, including air mail.

(111) A monthly summary of scientific information presented in plain language. This costs 5 dollars per annum (sea mail).

The entire Intelligence work upon which these reports are based is supervised in London, but reports are collected from all over the world. It is then evaluated and boiled down into short, sharp facts. These reports are the subject of world-wide scrutiny and comment. The highest authorities in Canada and America use them as a guide to world trends.

Those responsible for this work are in constant personal touch with the world's leading personalities, many of whom make a point of regularly visiting at our London hospitality centre or our special guest house in the country where all aspects of our reports are discussed and checked over.

We feel that you should have these Services. You will find that they make the situation crystal clear, and prove a vital guide through the seemingly confused events of these critical days.

Yours truly,

Kenneth de Courcy
